

War Fund Drive is Given an Enthusiastic Kickoff

EIGHTY-EIGHT THOUSAND, SEVEN HUNDRED DOLLARS...
eighty-eight thousand, seven hundred dollars...
$88,700...

Those are the numbers, the digits, the numerals, ringing in everyone's ear this morning. Those are the vital, the magic, figures that blaze like electric lights in the consciousness of workers starting out today on their seven-day trek toward the goal. (SEVEN days, remember, kind citizen, not ten days as heretofore.) For $88,700 IS the goal—the goal of the third and last Warren County War Fund campaign.

In the hall of the Y. W. C. A., nearly filled with an enthusiastic kickoff crowd of campaigners, the keynote of the drive was sounded by Dr. William F. Zimmerman, President of Thiel College: "Knowing the record, knowing the need, what will be our response?" Dr. Zimmerman answered his own question, "If we have the spirit of the Good Samaritan, we will succeed not only in Warren County, but in the world-wide community."

Dr. Zimmerman's address was memorable for its straightforward, unqualified presentation of the War Fund story at home and abroad. He quoted President Truman's declaration that "A great victory does not mean victory for all time. Victory must be kept won." He described the work done by the War Fund for American soldiers, for the Merchant Marine, for the War Prisoners. He gave some graphic statistics. "The children alone, helped by the War Fund throughout the world, would, if put together, populate three hundred counties the size of Warren County. The displaced people who have been helped would populate one hundred twenty Warren Counties. The total of all people of all classes served by the War Fund would equal 1,400 Warren Counties."

"Never have so many been helped for so little," Dr. Zimmerman went on, paraphrasing Winston Churchill's famous statement during the Battle of Britain. Food supplied directly by the War Fund would equal a train one-half mile long with 100,000 pounds to each car. Clothing has been supplied to the extent of 280 carloads or a three-mile train. Four and a half million dollars of medicine and drugs have been provided for those without them. Yet all this is done with an administrative expense of only one percent.

"The approaching winter in Europe is an approaching tragedy," said Dr. Zimmerman. "You are on trial. I am on trial. Warren is a community where achievement is a characteristic note."

E. W. Johnson, Chairman of the campaign, opened the business meeting after a rousing concert by the High School Band and an invocation by Ralph Wagner, Secretary of the Warren

Y. M. C. A. He introduced David Byrne, Field Representative of the War Fund, who made a special trip from Pittsburgh to be present at the opening meeting. He commented on the necessity for harder efforts than ever before, and predicted the drive would reach its goal.

Henry Candy, campaign manager, urged campaigners not to go out with a mental reservation. "Bank deposits have increased in the last twelve months," he pointed out. "There's plenty of money in Warren County. The campaign must not have a 10% cut. It should have a 10% increase over the quota. Remember, you have only one week to do the job instead of ten days. When you secure a cash payment, don't fail to write your name on the pledge card in the proper space. YOU'VE GOT THE TOOLS—IT'S UP TO YOU TO CARRY ON." Allen Gibson, county chairman, urged that every home in the county be contacted. "Don't miss anybody!"

All speakers joined in urging a massive attendance at the First Report Meeting on Wednesday night. "Let's have 50% of our quota by that time!" was the slogan.

THE WEATHER
Slowly rising temperature today. Fair tonight and Wednesday. Somewhat warmer Wednesday. Warren temp: High 44. Low 40. Sunrise 6:12. Sunset 5:19.

TAX CUTTING BILL OPPOSED BY THE C.I.O.

Union Official Charges Measure is Device to Provide Windfalls for Wealthy

TAFT STAND SURPRISES

Washington, Oct. 16—(AP)—The CIO denounced the house approved tax cutting bill today as a device for providing "huge windfalls to the richest corporations and the wealthiest individuals."

It suggested to the senate finance committee a substitute program designed to benefit primarily lower bracket income tax payers and small businesses.

The program was outlined by Clifford McAvoy, legislative representative of CIO's United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers.

Previously Senator Taft (R-Ohio) came out unexpectedly in favor of the treasury's tax-cutting proposals in place of those voted by the house.

The treasury wanted the excess profits tax ended January 1. The house bill would reduce the tax now and end it January 1, 1947.

The treasury also proposed repeal of the normal tax on individuals. The house scaled it down instead in such a way that some congress members complained it mainly aided those with high incomes.

Taft told a reporter before the senate finance committee began its second day of hearing that he likes (Turn to Page Nine)

Husband Is Questioned In Wife's Murder

Pontiac, Mich., Oct. 16—(AP)—Louis V. Thompson, wealthy Detroit automobile dealer and his former secretary underwent police questioning again today as authorities pressed for a break in the brutal mutilation murder of his estranged wife, Mrs. Lydia Thompson.

Sheriff Edward K. Thomas of Oakland county emphasized that no charge has been placed against either the 46-year-old Thompson or the secretary Mrs. Helen Budnik, but expressed hope they might be able to "furnish a lead" that would help solve the slaying.

Law officers of Wayne and Oakland counties joined in a probe of the movements of the attractive 47-year-old victim, who had resided in her luxurious $100,000 summer home at Orchard Lake since she and Thompson separated three months ago.

Police admitted that they had encountered many blind alleys in tracing the activities of the Russian-born laundry owner whose body was found Saturday in a wooded area, 12 miles west of Pontiac and near her Orchard Lake home.

Thompson, who told police he met his wife 23 years ago while he was serving in the British army, admitted to Prosecutor Donald Noggle that he saw Mrs. Thompson last Wednesday, the day before she was slain, according to medical reports.

The well-to-do business man and Mrs. Budnik, his former employee, declared frankly that Mrs. Thompson had resented their friendship.

Civilian Defense Workers Receive Thanks of Gov. Martin

Harrisburg, Oct. 16—(AP)—Pennsylvania's 1,600,000 Civilian Defense Workers were demobilized today with the thanks of Governor Martin and other officials of the wartime State Defense Council.

"As Pennsylvania's governor declared at official demobilization ceremonies last night, "we are proud of the volunteer civilian defense. It is the greatest community enterprise in the history of the commonwealth."

The demobilization ceremonies at state headquarters were broadcast over a state-wide network. Similar ceremonies were held at county and local headquarters.

Dr. Ralph Cooper Hutchison, president of Lafayette College and executive director of the State Defense Council and Mrs. M. Margery Scranton, Scranton, commander of war services, also voiced their thanks to the Civilian Defense Workers in short addresses.

Certificates of appreciation were awarded by Governor Martin to all volunteers "in recognition of duty beyond that required of any citizen."

China Flooded With Worthless Currency

By RUSSELL BRINES

Tokyo, Oct. 16—(AP)—Printing presses backed by Japanese bayonets deluged China with now-worthless currency adding up to about 54,000,000,000 (B) U. S. dollars in face value, the Tokyo newspaper Asahi said today.

The figure was the first to be published indicating the degree of financial plundering by Japanese militarists. It was disclosed by the newspaper in its demands on the imperial government to curb inflation.

Notes totaling 4,000,000,000,000 (T) yuan were issued by the Central Reserve Bank of China, financial agency backed by the Japanese militarists, the newspaper said.

Youth Admits Slaying Of His Molester

Pittsburgh, Oct. 16—(AP)—Police Inspector Edward Maas said today that William Blader, 18, University of Pittsburgh student, stated he shot and killed Frank M. Amberson, after the 50-year-old Springdale merchant involved him in an act of perversion.

Maas said Blader told of having arranged to meet Amberson at the fountain of Schenley park during the early hours of Friday morning.

Earlier, the youth had told officers that the shooting was accidental and that he had bought a .38-caliber revolver because "people annoyed me sexually and because they threatened me over my Nietzschean philosophy."

Maas quoted the youth as saying the two men walked up the winding walk behind Carnegie Institute where Amberson asked him to submit to a degenerate act.

The police inspector quoted Blader as saying:

"He said he'd continue to molest me."

Halsey Calls For Military Peace

San Francisco, Oct. 16—(AP)—Admiral Halsey, warmly welcomed home from the wars, said today that the peace must be a military one if it is to last.

"This is what we have dreamed of, hoped for, fought for and prayed for—to return home again, knowing that our enemies have been vanquished," the admiral said in a broadcast after the ships of his Third Fleet had dropped anchor in San Francisco bay yesterday.

"But let us not forget that to be a lasting peace, it must be a military peace."

"Enemies are both born and made—the United States must vigilantly guard itself against aggression, yet cooperate to the utmost in perfecting a world organization which will function with smoothness, efficiency and certainty."

Warning against ever allowing Japan to become strong again, he said:

"Japan today is a fourth or fifth-rate nation, and if we use a modicum of judgment she will never be permitted to be anything else."

Plea for Integration of Armed Services Prompts Proposal for Council of National Defense

PRAISES HIS TROOPS

Washington, Oct. 16—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's radio plea for complete integration of the nation's armed services prompted Senator Walsh (D-Mass.) today to propose a Council of National Defense.

The chairman of the senate naval committee suggested the secretaries of state, war and navy as members with the president running the show as commander in chief.

Walsh's proposal came as an alternative to merger of the army and navy. Most legislators thought MacArthur was talking a merger of this kind when he told the world last night:

"The great lesson for the future is that success in the art of war depends upon a complete integration of the services. In unity will lie military strength."

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) told a reporter that as he sees it the only way "complete integration" can be obtained would be through the creation of a single military department.

Johnson is acting chairman of the senate military committee which begins hearings tomorrow on such a proposal. Secretary of War Patterson will be the first witness.

Nip Suicide Tactics Were Not Restricted

By DUANE HENNESSY

Tokyo, Oct. 16—(AP)—Japan's war machine was so crushed as early as July, 1944, that imperial general headquarters ordered all branches of the armed services to "become thoroughly indoctrinated in suicide attacks 'at once.'"

This was disclosed today at General MacArthur's headquarters, which long had been informed on the Japanese frame of mind through captured documents.

While kamikaze was a symbol to Americans of Japanese aerial suicide attacks, it was not restricted to the air. An outstanding example was tanks. The Japanese realized that their anti-tank tactics were weak, due to inferior equipment. With their total disregard for human life, they organized suicide assault units.

Suicide tactics were not confined to the air or tank corps. An imperial general headquarters pamphlet called for a battlefront headquarters in July, 1944, ordered:

"In view of the present situation it is absolutely necessary that all of the armed services understand warfare which enables a single person to destroy an airplane, a warship or a tank and thus crush the stubborn enemy who relies upon material superiority."

"All concerned must become thoroughly indoctrinated in this method at once."

Japanese soldiers were not always willing deliberately to sacrifice their lives in anti-tank suicide tactics, which were far different from dying in wild banzai charges. Proof of this reluctance came from, among others, Superior Pvt. Yoshimichi Hanazawa, who said "suicide men were picked from the companies and not all were volunteers. They waited with fear that they might be chosen. They did not want to go."

STORE HOURS CUT

Philadelphia, Oct. 16—(AP)—Approximately 3,000 employees in Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company stores in New Jersey, eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware were told today to work 45 hours a week—a reduction of three hours—with no loss in pay. L. A. Mullen, vice president, announced.

Impartial Election In Berlin Would Not Support Present Communist Regime

FOUR PARTIES ACTIVE

Washington, Oct. 16—(AP)—General Eisenhower said today "informal reports indicate a fair and impartially supervised election in Berlin would not support the present Communist party dominance" of the city's government.

The general put into his second monthly report on military government in the American zone of occupation a critique on politics in Germany—including those in the Russian zone.

Eisenhower declared that one of the political devices fostered by the Communists in Berlin—a bloc of parties—would have no welcome in the American zone.

Here is what he had to say about Berlin, where the Allied control authority has its headquarters and where the four Allied powers have four zones:

"Four organized parties exist there. They were granted permission by the Soviet military authorities to organize and so were functioning when United States forces occupied the U. S. sector of Berlin. The four parties are the Communist party, the Social Democratic party, the Christian Democratic Union, and the Liberal Democratic party."

"The first two are well organized, active and have a basis of former members on which to build. The latter two groups are new parties, though drawing support (Turn to Page Nine)

Jobless Benefits In State Decline

Harrisburg, Oct. 16—(AP)—State Treasurer Ramsey S. Black reported a decline in jobless benefits in Pennsylvania for the week ending Oct. 11.

Checks were mailed to 67,426 recipients by the treasury department compared to 73,044 the previous week, while the actual money paid out by the unemployment compensation bureau fell off $115,000.

At the same time Black said there was an increase of $55,393 in the amount of money paid out to returning Pennsylvania veterans under the service men's readjustment act, bringing the weekly total in this category to $311,367.

Total checks for service men for the week were 15,581 as compared to 12,812 the previous week.

Included in the unemployment compensation disbursements was 73 checks totalling $1,278 in Warren.

Avalos Disavows Strong Man Role

By LAURENCE F. STUNTZ

Buenos Aires, Oct. 16—(AP)—War Minister Gen. Eduardo Avalos, leader of the army movement which overthrew the military rule of Col. Juan Peron, disavowed the role of strong man today, asserting he merely was carrying out army orders in the revision of Argentina's government.

In an interview with the Associated Press Avalos called the overthrow of Peron, vice president, war minister and labor minister under President Gen. Edelmiro Farrell, a "revolution."

Losers in the political upset continued to be routed out of government posts as civilian leaders weighed offers to enter a government still headed by a military president.

Eisenhower Takes Issue With Report of Treatment of Jews

Washington, Oct. 16—(AP)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower took issue today with the Harrison report which asserted that treatment of Jews and other displaced persons in American-occupied Germany was about the same accorded them under the Nazi regime.

The White House released Eisenhower's letter to President Truman replying to a recent report by Earl G. Harrison, U. S. representative on the inter-governmental committee on refugees, on conditions in the American zone.

Eisenhower, commanding general of U. S. forces in the European theatre, termed "definitely misleading" a statement that "our military guards are now substituting for SS troops."

"At the time of Mr. Harrison's report," Eisenhower wrote, "there were perhaps 1,600 Jews still in their former concentration camps. These were too sick to be moved at that time. No Jewish or other displaced persons have been housed in these places longer than was absolutely necessary for medical quarantine and recovery from acute illness. It has always been our practice, not just our policy, to remove these victims with the utmost speed from concentration camps."

Harrison's report, the general contended, "gives little regard to the problems facing the real success attained in saving the lives of thousands of Jewish and other concentration camp victims and repatriating those who could and wished to be repatriated, and the progress made in two months to bring these unfortunate who remained under our jurisdiction from the depths of physical degeneration to a condition of health and essential comfort."

Displaced persons, Eisenhower said, have "absolute preference" over Germans for housing, but (Turn to Page Nine)

MILK STRIKE THREAT DELAYED TEMPORARILY

New York, Oct. 16—(AP)—A threatened milk strike by two AFL unions was held up today pending a conference of a committee with Mayor F. H. La Guardia in an attempt to reach a settlement of a wage dispute with 21 companies.

The strike would halt milk distribution to an estimated 7,600,000 residents of New York City, Long Island and Westchester county.

The 300 members of the unions voted yesterday in favor of a strike, and empowered a joint committee to call it immediately or adjust the dispute peacefully.

TO FIX MILK PRICES
Harrisburg, Oct. 16—(AP)—A hearing to receive testimony concerning the fixing of milk prices in the Pennsylvania's milk market was held today in the city of Harrisburg on Oct. 22, Chairman H. N. Cobb, of the State Milk Commission, said the hearing was "a precautionary one" to prevent the commission "for any emergency" and will not be concerned with prices to be paid by dealers and handlers to producers.

UNITED MINE WORKERS AND OPERATORS FAIL TO AGREE ON ISSUE OF FOREMEN'S UNION

Scarcity of Fuel In Many of Strike Areas Brings Further Curtailment to Steel and Other Industries As Well As Closing of Schools

THOUSANDS OF WORKERS ARE FURLOUGHED

Washington, Oct. 16—(AP)—The government counted as a failure today its 10-day efforts to settle the soft coal strike, but it had no plans for immediate action.

Hope was revived, meanwhile, for a new approach to the broader reconversion wage-price problem.

Secretary of Labor Schwelmbach last night wound up "subject to call" his fruitless negotiations with bituminous operators and John L. Lewis over the mine foremen's unionization issue.

The labor secretary said his settlement attempt—with 200,000 miners idle and half of the nation's normal soft coal production closed down—had collapsed. But he still had hopes, he told reporters, for some solution.

He added that for the time being the government has no intention of seizing the closed mines.

By the Associated Press
The nation's labor disputes, numbering at least 135, kept some 385,000 workers from their jobs today, the lowest total this month but the general labor picture was not bright.

The darkest cloud came out of Washington in the form of Secretary of Labor Schwelmbach's announcement of the collapse of the conference to settle the critical soft coal strike.

In New York City, where a 16-day strike of AFL Longshoremen has virtually paralyzed shipping in the world's biggest harbor, there was reported violence within the union ranks and by CIO unionists, as extra police were ordered to the waterfront.

On the bright side was the resumption of service to some 1,000,000 New England bus and trolley riders as buses, under control of the commonwealth of Massachusetts, began rolling after a three-day strike of 1,800 eastern Massachusetts street railway employees.

Although the government in 10 days of meetings failed to get the soft coal operators and John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers to agree over the recognition of the nine foremen's union, the labor secretary said he still held hope of solving the dispute.

Meanwhile, the scarcity of fuel in many of the strike areas brought further curtailment to steel and other industries, and threatened to close three large Pittsburgh high and junior high schools. Cold weather in western Pennsylvania may also force some churches to close by the end of the week, a coal merchant's association spokesman said.

Violence was reported in the 16-day old strike of dockworkers in New York harbor, which has virtually halted all out-bound shipping, and hundreds of extra police were ordered to patrol duty along the big waterfront today. The additional squads of police came after rival factions within the AFL-International Longshoremen's Association charged each other with violence and use of "goons" as intimidators. Mayor La Guardia warned "there will be no rough stuff on the waterfront."

Police estimated that more than 5,000 of the estimated 35,000 strikers returned yesterday and the War Shipping Administration (Turn to Page Nine)

Jap Navy Captain Discloses Details of Pearl Harbor Raid

By HAMILTON FARON
Tokyo, Oct. 16—(AP)—A Japanese navy captain disclosed today that crews of six Japanese aircraft carriers which struck the war-breeding blow at Pearl Harbor thought they were on a training mission until the day before the assault.

Capt. Mitsue Fuchida "supreme commander" of the carriers' flight groups, said in an interview that all six had been sunk since the Dec. 7, 1941, strike, and that "I believe I am the only one left" of the sneak attack group. "But there might be some others I've lost track of."

The carriers were the Akagi, Kanga, Soryu and Hiryu, sunk in the battle of Midway June 4-6, 1942; the Shokaku, sunk in the battle of the West Marianas, and the Zuikaku, destroyed in the second battle of the Philippines.

Fuchida said the Pearl Harbor attack force also included two battleships, three cruisers, four destroyer flotillas of four ships each and eight tankers.

"This fleet, Fuchida related, sailed from the Chi Shima Islands Nov. 26, 1941, with most men aboard believing they were on a training operation. Then, 'the bows were heading east and the men began to wonder and speculate,' he said. On Dec. 3, the fleet personnel was told that Japan might enter the war and 'the men became kind of excited,' but they 'calmed down when given the order to attack.'"

Fuchida said the harbor attack lasted 45 minutes, and that American aircraft fire downed nine planes of the main group.

Enroute back to Japan, Fuchida reported, two carriers left the fleet to attack Wake Island.

UNITED WAR FUND-A-MENTALS

To All Campaign Workers and to the Public

Well, the gong has sounded! And the race is on!

Last night's rousing Kickoff Meeting left no doubt of the determined effort that is going into the third and last United War Fund campaign. Chairmen, and workers alike, are not going to yield an inch in their resolve to pile up a total exceeding the goal of $88,700.

There wasn't a single dead leaf of defeatism floating through the air. Nobody said, "Oh, well, the war's over. People won't give as they did last year." There was a sober realization of the difficulties of the task ahead, but a conviction that those difficulties would be overcome.

"SEVEN DAYS SHALT THOU LABOR." Not six, as in the Biblical injunction. And not ten, as in previous drives. You have only seven days to do the job you did last year in seven plus three days. This means three things:

1. Start sooner.
2. Work harder.
3. Finish faster.

We must, as an organization, turn in an average of nearly $13,000 per day if we are going to ring up $88,700 in seven days. Can we do it? Sure, we can.

Keep the pink tabloid "War Fund News" at hand. It is not only the flash story of the War Fund effort at home and abroad. It is a handbook of all the vital statistics and pertinent facts about the Warren County drive. A copy of it went to every subscriber of the Times-Mirror in the County. Bigger, better, and more comprehensive than a folder, it has already prepared the way for the individual worker.

Teachers Of This Section To Attend Meet

More than 2,500 teachers, principals and school superintendents will attend the 20th annual conference of the northwestern section, Pennsylvania State Education association, to be held from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Friday, October 26, in Strong Vincent high school at Erie. It was announced Monday by R. H. L. Offner, Edinboro, president.

Schools in Warren, Crawford, Forest, Venango and Erie counties will be represented at the sessions, theme of which will be "Blessed Are the Promoters."

Exhibits of modern teaching aids for promotion of the American way of life in the world community will be presented from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. with Paul D. Schenck as chairman.

Branch PSEA presidents, convention district officers and delegates of the local branches to the association will hold a business session at 9 a. m. to elect new officers and nominate delegates to the National Education association convention of 1946.

New president of the northwestern section will be Dr. H. L. Offner, Edinboro, present vice president, who automatically moves up as head of the group.

Department meetings will be held from 10 to 11 a. m. and general sessions will be in the school auditorium at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. Principal speaker will be Col. Thomas Tchou, former secretary to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek; Otis A. Crosby, president of the National School Public Relations association; and Dr. C. Herman those, superintendent of Erie schools and president of the Pennsylvania State Education association.

Memorial Park Committee To Hold Meeting

Members of the joint committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the Town Council will hold a meeting this week at which time discussion will be indulged in relative to the construction of the Memorial Athletic Field. A special investigation is now under way to ascertain the possibilities of raising the money necessary for the building of the field by public subscription. To accomplish this job there must be a large number of big subscriptions and various persons are being sounded out along that line.

At the committee meeting a report on this matter will be made and it is found that the money can be raised in a plan will undoubtedly be made for the organizing of committees to handle the project.

If the money cannot be raised "this" will be written on the project.

Obituary

JOHN T. PHELPS
John T. Phelps, 76, of Sugar Grove, passed away at his home at 8:35 a. m. this morning, following an illness of several months. Born in Sherman, N. Y., he came to Sugar Grove in 1893 to study music, where he has resided since. He taught music and operated a music store for some time, later being engaged in the automobile business.

He is survived by one son, Raymond Phelps, of Warren; three grandsons, Meredith, Roger and Stanley, of Warren; one brother, Elmer Phelps, of Sherman, N. Y. His wife, Winifred Nichols Phelps, passed away two years ago in April.

Funeral services in his memory will be held from the Sugar Grove Methodist church Thursday at two o'clock. Interment will be in the Sugar Grove cemetery.

IN MEMORY of Edward E. Yorke, who passed away a year ago today, October 16, 1944.

He has gone ahead like on who finds
A flowered pathway that winds and winds
Over the hills to a promised land
Where peace and comfort go hand in hand.

Have we a right to wonder why
He heard a call that passed us by?
Have we a reason for grief or woe
Knowing that God has willed it so?

No, he is happy waiting there
Where the winds are soft and the skies are fair.
How can we speak of him as dead
When, with a smile, he has gone ahead?

Elaine Carrington Is Local Speaker

A very well attended meeting was held at the Woman's Club Monday afternoon, when the Literature Department opened its season by presenting Elaine Carrington, of New York, as guest speaker.

Possessed of a very interesting personality, Mrs. Carrington presented her topic, "Writing for the Radio", in an informal manner, answering questions and bringing out much information.

At the close of the program, Mrs. R. W. Steber was hostess for tea in the club dining room, including Mrs. W. F. Clinger and Mrs. Howard Alexander to preside at the attractive table.

Next Monday's meeting will be that of Community Service Department, for which Mrs. William Hill has planned an address by Miss Olive Williams, of Buffalo, N. Y., on the topic "First Hand Information on the San Francisco Conference".

PAK "Prep" Club Arranges Hayride

Tomorrow evening, the juniors and sophomores comprising the PAK "Prep" Club will line up behind Napoleon and Susie for a hayride to Hemlock community house. The group will assemble at the church at 6:30 o'clock.

In case of rain, the hayride will be turned into a party at Trinity parish house, with members assembling at 7:30 o'clock.

Arrival at the clubhouse will be the signal for a program of dancing, and the committee promises refreshments. The hour for return to town has been set at 9:45 o'clock. According to PAK leaders, the entire PAK membership will be present.

Serving as committee for this event will be Al Marner, chairman; Fred Kieshauser, Betsi Conaway, Dora Messner and Bill Hill.

The entire PAK membership is looking forward to its Halloween party to be held on October 25 in First Presbyterian church, when one of the highlights will be a movie "The Ghost and the Guest."

Mrs. Katherine Davis in a very stirring talk described her trip to the Women's State Bond Conference in Philadelphia. While there she visited the Naval Hospital where miracles are being performed daily in rehabilitating wounded veterans. "If we could only see," said Mrs. Davis, "what can be done for these men who sacrificed so much for us, we would know why we must buy bonds. Each hospital unit for a single man costs $3,000 and thousands are needed. Our bond purchases will help provide these. As patriotic American citizens, we must and will make this campaign a success."

Hallowe'en Fun To Be Curbed Until Due Time

Seemingly there are a lot of boys and girls who are unable to understand the calendar as both the State Police and the local police in Warren and other towns over the county report pranks under way. There is a time for the celebration of Hallowe'en and that time is set by the calendar. Until that time no pranks will be tolerated by either the state or local police.

During the past few weeks there has been an outbreak of juvenile pranks that have caused much trouble and police have made up their mind that such things must stop. Arra's will be made of any and all found indulging in premature pranks and substantial punishment will be meted out. Parents should be warned to apply the curb to their children as children and parents alike will be held accountable.

Men's Class Has Pictures

Thirty members turned out Monday night for the first fall meeting of the First Methodist Men's Class, held in the Scout room at the church.

President F. O. Wood conducted the business meeting and the program committee, H. L. Blair and E. G. Garber, offered two fine movies, "An Adventure in Learning," which was a story of wheat, and "People of Mexico."

To conclude the evening, the following committee served refreshments: George B. Young, Anthony Larsen, E. W. Koehnley, W. A. Covert, C. B. McMillan, C. B. Campbell and Charles Burch.

The next meeting, scheduled November 19, will be observed as "Ladies' Night," with Paul Yagge and Louis Morlock arranging the program and George Irvin heading the social committee.

JOHNSON UNIT HAS RECORD ATTENDANCE

An unusually large attendance at the October meeting of Johnson PTA, held Monday evening at the school, included a large number of fathers. The president, Mrs. T. R. Sponsler, conducted the business session and Mrs. Charles Eaton led a devotional period.

M. H. Deardorff, authority on Indian lore, was guest speaker for the evening, giving the group an idea of the training of Indian children. The fact that they were very mild mannered and well behaved, with very little of the present day indications of nervousness, was stressed by the speaker.

A vote was taken during the evening to provide Clara Tree Major play tickets for some children at the Hoffman Home who had not otherwise been arranged for. At the close of the evening, Mrs. Atwood Drum and a committee of fourth grade mothers served refreshments.

SENECA UNIT

The regular meeting of the Seneca P. T. A. scheduled for Wednesday night, October 17, has been postponed, and will be held on the 24th at the school house. The meeting will begin promptly at eight o'clock.

Route Six Program Covers Long Range Construction

Route 6, known for years as the Roosevelt Highway, during the years to come is to receive a face-lifting that will transform it into a first class cross country highway. This was learned authoritatively from Henry E. Kloss, program director for the Pennsylvania State Highway Department. Mr. Kloss has been spending some time in the city during the past week and he has driven over the county making a study of highway conditions with a view of making recommendations as to future work in the county.

Route 6, which it was announced some time ago would be known as the Grand Army of the Republic Highway, may still continue to be known as the Roosevelt Highway as the change is not clicking very well with Gov. Edward Martin, according to Associated Press Dispatches.

Mr. Kloss in discussing highway construction in general said: "The present war has shown the need for a good highway system. Not narrow meandering roads but wide useful highways over the nation and built. I was instrumental in much of the work on the Route 6 highway and it is too light. It was not built for the heavy traffic it is called upon to bear today. It should all be rebuilt with better grades, wider curves, etc.

"I have driven many miles in this county in an endeavor to find a better route for the highway than through Warren. Even the route through Pleasant township is unsuitable due to the propensity of the hillsides over there to slide. It would be a costly job to control those, although it is merely an engineering problem. There is a bottleneck through the West End of Warren but at the expense of three trees it could be widened to shade car width. Also from Water

USES Is Placing Handicapped Persons In Useful Occupation

Manager David Levine and his corps of assistants in the office of the USES, 223 Pennsylvania avenue, west have added a most interesting piece of work to their activities. For months before the close of the war accent was placed on the work of placing handicapped persons in useful jobs and employees of the USES office were carefully trained in the work. Thousands of men who were wounded in action are returning home and must be placed; scores of men and women injured in industrial work during the war are seeking to be independent and the usual number of handicapped persons are endeavoring to find work.

At the office of the USES there is a vast amount of material used in consultation with persons seeking places to work and also for the appraisal of jobs in the various plants. By the application of the various features shown in the schedules a quick appraisal can be made of the potential ability of the applicant and also of the place which is open. It is interesting to read the records of some of the applicants who have been placed. They fit in the new jobs in a wonderful manner and are happy and satisfied.

Returning veterans are also being fitted into the various places of employment about the city. Many of them who before the war had no skills are returning equipped to do trained work. By consultation with the charts furnished by the army, navy and other branches are found to fit into civilian employment in fine shape.

A brief interview was held with Manager Levine and he was asked: "I think we have to concede that great progress has been made during the war in the proper placement of handicapped people. But I am wondering, now that the war is over, if many employers have returned to their former rigid physical requirements."

"Yes, Mr. Berger, labor shortage virtually forced industry and trade to employ handicapped persons to a greater extent than ever before. Nevertheless the result has been that a great many employers now realize, as never before, the potentialities of handicapped workers. However, we realize that with the war ended the handicapped worker will have more difficulty holding his own in competition with normal individuals. And that is why the USES has put a lot of study into what is called selective placement."

"Well, here's a question that applies to a man discharged from service, as well as others. During a period of considerable unemployment, isn't there danger that the handicapped person will be overlooked because of the competition for jobs with able-bodied men?"

"Not necessarily, Mr. Berger. You see the whole purpose of this selective placement program is to give the handicapped a competitive chance, even in competition with able-bodied workers. They are given this chance by highlighting their strong points through choice of the jobs in which they are placed. If the job is such that a handicapped person has no reason to be at a disadvantage because of his handicap—if he can hold his own as a worker—then there is no reason why he should be displaced by an able-bodied man at any time. In effect, what we are doing is emphasizing abilities rather than disabilities."

"What it all seems to add up to, Mr. Levine, is that there's almost no limit to what can be done by ingenuity to make useful workers and members of society out of the handicapped. I think we've come a long way from the attitude that used to restrict many of these handicapped persons to only a few types of jobs. We realize now that these handicapped persons must have an opportunity to do useful and self-respecting work. We are all anxious to see a continually widening horizon of job opportunities for these people, and we have to agree with you that hundreds of thousands of them have proved that they can do a fine job."

Chemists Will Meet Saturday At N. Warren

The Pennsylvania-New York Western Border Section of the American Chemical Society will hold its October meeting at the North Warren Community House on Saturday evening, October 20th, at 6:30. The guest speaker will be Dr. Gustav Egloff, of the Universal Oil Products Company, and his subject will be "Petroleum as a Chemical Industry."

Dr. Egloff, born in New York on November 10, 1886, received A. B. degree from Cornell University in 1912, and his Ph. D. degree from Columbia University in 1915. After being employed by the U. S. Bureau of Mines and the Aetna Chemical Company, Dr. Egloff became affiliated with the Universal Oil Products Company in 1917 and has been director of research since that time.

Dr. Egloff has been appointed as advisor and correspondent to numerous industrial and government agencies, and has been selected as delegate to eleven international meetings where he has presented papers dealing with refining processes. He has also been the presiding officer for a number of these international meetings. He is the author of many articles, books, patents and lectures.

Among the many scientific and technical societies to which Dr. Egloff is a member are included the American Chemical Society, American Institute of Chemical Engineers, American Institute of Chemists, American Petroleum Institute, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and the Chemical Institute of Canada.

Invitations have been sent to the refiners of this area by Robert E. Dunham who is the acting chairman of the Pennsylvania-New York Western Border Section, and a large attendance is expected.

CORYDON

Corydon, Oct. 16—Sandra Caldwell observed her seventh birthday anniversary in fitting manner when her teacher assisted by pupils of the local school tendered her a complete surprise birthday dinner at the school house. A feature of refreshment was a lovely birthday cake baked by Mrs. Margaret Coates. Throughout the day and evening she received numerous attractive gifts including two more birthday cakes. Her teacher Mrs. Coates and classmates presented her gifts of money.

The Wednesday Night Social club members were delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Smith. Cards occupying the evening followed by refreshments. Prizes were presented to Mrs. Jessie Bennett, high and slam, Mrs. Lida Wilcox, second.

Mrs. Beulah Burch was guest of honor at a very enjoyable birthday party tendered her at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tonne. About fourteen guests were present, spending the time socially and with playing cards. She was the recipient of a number of gifts.

Corporal Benjamin Crooks arrived here recently enjoying a furlough with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Crooks. Corporal Crooks is stationed at Denver, Colorado where he is an instructor in photography. He will return to Denver Saturday.

Miss Lucia Browne was hostess at a very pleasant dinner party in her home. Present were eight teacher friends of Miss Browne, coming here from Russell and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clark and First Lieutenant Charles Bennett, to a war base in South Carolina. Enroute they visited the H. C. Funk family in Chester.

Saturday night's feature picture "Blonde meets the Boss" drew another fine attendance. Popcorn was sold at intermission periods during the show program and after the show also. Money realized from the sale was added to the church papering fund. Manager Ray Garvin announced the showing of a Western feature for the coming Saturday evening.

Rev. J. P. Daltz occupied the pulpit Sunday at the Nazareth church. Rev. Daltz has accepted the pastorate of the local edifice and with Mrs. Baltz will return the coming weekend. Following the service Sunday evening they left for Akron, accompanied by Mrs. Strack, of Lima, Ohio, who accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schuler and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Arthur, left Monday enroute to Lakeland, Florida, where they will spend several months.

Mrs. Grace Hale, of Lakewood was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Learn.

Your Money at Work at Home

Of the $88,700 total goal for the 1945 Warren County War Fund, $49,700 remains at home to be used in the work of the 8 local agencies—work both in Warren Borough, and in the County outside the Borough. No money collected outside the Borough in the County is used for work inside the Borough; all of it goes for exclusively County purposes.

CHILDREN'S AID

The mother of two-year-old Johnny and his young sister Sarah was admitted to a mental institution. Dad was unable to care for the children alone. The Children's Aid Society placed the two children in a foster home, and now Johnny and Sarah are contentedly waiting for the day when their parents can be reunited and a suitable home made for them.

Set up to help children who, for any reason, need care away from their own homes, the Children's Aid Society of Warren County is functioning for the 56th year. Before a child is placed in a foster home, the situation is completely studied and placement is made only when this plan is best for the child.

An important part of child-placing is to return the child to his own home as soon as his parents can adequately care for him. Sometimes, while a small girl or boy is in a foster home, the parents are taught through visits and discussion the proper way to improve care and understanding. Occasionally a trained worker goes into various homes to advise and encourage parents so that their children may be kept at home and never have the shock of separation which a removal would mean.

The Children's Aid Society has expanded its medical program by establishing a monthly clinic where all the children under its care have regular physical examinations by the Society's physician. Children with special problems are given the most careful attention.

Five-year-old Jane did not have a satisfactory home life and because of neglect, her physical and emotional condition became unbalanced. The Children's Aid Society found a boarding home for her, where she was given understanding and loving care. Skilled medical aid was provided for Jane, including an operation and special medication. Today the little girl plays with dolls, eats lollipops and listens to bedtime stories exactly as her playmates do.

The need for the work of the Children's Aid is greater today than ever before. The war has increased the problem of illegitimacy, and every unmarried mother needs help and understanding. Perhaps she is afraid to tell her parents of her condition or perhaps she is afraid of the future for herself and her child, because she knows of the disapproval she will have to meet in the community. She needs counsel of the soundest kind to make plans for her baby from the time she recognizes her pregnancy, and assurance that the situation will be handled until she reaches her own decision in regard to plans for her baby. The Children's Aid Society is able to give this care.

For the mother who wants an adoption for her baby, the Children's Aid Society is able to make a placement in a carefully selected home after a study of the child has been made. The seriousness of adoption, both to the parents and to the adoptive parents cannot be overestimated. This is a step which should be taken only after careful thought and consideration.

A private agency, the Children's Aid Society depends upon financial help, in addition to what parents are able to pay, from its share of the Warren County War Fund.

Let us prove that we are willing to aid children less fortunate than our own by making our contribution to the Warren County War Fund today.

WARREN RELIEF

Somewhere, right here in our own community, a baby is crying lustily for milk, but there is no milk; somewhere a small girl shivers in the half-light of early morning as she slips her one ragged dress over her head; somewhere a boy looks wistfully at his dirty, bare feet and wishes he had shoes like the boy next door; somewhere a hungry family sits down to an inadequate meal.

Yes, these pictures are not pleasant, and but for the Warren Relief Association, the needs of those less fortunate ones might go unheeded. Regardless of age, color or creed, the volunteer members of the Warren Relief Association aid to all those who are in need. To concentrate efforts and assistance where they are most urgently required, two directors are appointed in each ward to investigate the many appeals the Association receives. In answer to these appeals, the Warren Relief Association distributes milk, makes out food orders, pays for medicine, fuel and rents. Thanksgiving baskets were distributed before rationing began, and now food orders are given so that this service may be continued. Last year 242 persons benefited in these various respects.

The importance of nourishing food for school children has always been emphasized by the Warren Relief Association. During the last school year lunches and 6 quarts of milk daily were provided for children at the North Warren school cafeteria. At a cost of approximately $2,000 a year, more than 22,014 quarts of milk were allotted not only these children, but also many other infants, sick and aged.

More than 1,000 pieces of clothing were distributed by the Association last year from its rooms on Liberty street. The Needlework Club donated over 200 new garments, and the remainder of the clothing was given by persons interested in the work of the Warren Relief. New shoes and rubbers were purchased by the Association to supplement the outfits.

Although a few small donations are received from clubs, churches and individuals, the Warren Relief Association relies on the Community Fund for the main source of its income. Upon the generosity of those who donate to this fund depends the health and happiness of the needy in our community for the coming year. We can't—and we won't—let them down.

street to the new pavement at the East End of the city there is another bottleneck. That must be widened and a new bridge built across the Conewango creek and also across the mill race.

"On the approach to Warren from the west where the highway crosses the New York Central and Pennsylvania railroad lines there must be built an overpass which will care for the volume of traffic without the danger from the crossings. This would be the contour of the land be a straightway crossing with the eastern end near the site of the old highway sheds on Pennsylvania avenue. It had been thought at one time that the New York Central line would be abandoned but from all indications this will never be. With the new bridge of the Pennsylvania railroad crossing the river near the proposed overhead bridge much of the rail traffic would be removed from the highway crossing at the Pennsylvania railroad station.

"On the eastern approach to Warren a new bridge is a necessity. The trailer trucks now in use can hardly make the curve onto the east end of the bridge now in use. The new bridge would above the present one and would be placed diagonally across the river which would avert the use of any curves in driving into Warren from the east. The new bridge will be wide enough to carry three lanes of traffic.

"Just when these improvements will be carried out is not known but they must come. New York states is building a super highway across the state and it will enter Erie and connect with the highway there into Ohio.

"The demands for new highways, all of them needed, would take every dollar of state and Federal money that Pennsylvania has and could get and still there would be places where additional millions could be spent. The whole state is highway conscious and from every city and hamlet there is a cry going up for new roads.

"Philadelphia and Pittsburgh are both demanding new highways that will by pass through traffic and not interfere with regular city traffic. A superhighway to the Ohio line and onward westerly through Akron is also surveyed while an extension to the Pennsylvania turnpike is surveyed eastward.

"The era of roadbuilding is at hand and millions upon millions of dollars will be spent. Experience however has taught that the new roads must be heavier and better graded than the old routes and this type of construction will not allow so many road miles for the dollars spent."

Over 21" Deemed Not Quite Up To High Standard Set by Warren Players

"Over 21", presented by the Warren Players last week, appeared to this reviewer to fall somewhat short of the standard the community has come to expect of Warren Players.

The choice of the play itself was unfortunate in that it was too much of the type of the war ended. In spite of the brilliant comedy of the lines, the sentimentalism of the play situation as a whole becomes anti-climactic at this particular period.

"Over 21" depicts the trials of over-age and not too apt assistant for an officer's commission of 1 of his wife as they attempt to just to life in the crowded quarters which are the only ones available near the army training field. It is setting provides the backdrop for many a farcical scene, amusingly pointed up by an abundance of clever lines. The situations are of the type to require wit and smoothness of repartee if the atmosphere is to remain amusing. Unfortunately, such smoothness was not consistently present in the Warren Players' production of the comedy.

Edith Pearlman was excellent in the leading role, carrying a difficult line-load with all the deftness of a part required. However, even her spontaneity was not enough to sustain several scenes in which the tempo of lines and action was uncomfortably slow. For the most part, this lagging appeared to be traceable to imperfect direction rather than lack of ability on the part of the cast. Charles Sellin, for example, showed repeated evidence of a poise and stage personality which would captivate any audience, but his undeniable talent was not exploited to a consistently maintained level.

George Cunningham, Fred Plummer, and S. M. McClure were, as usual, competent and likable in their respective roles, and the characterizations done by Virginia Billstone and Millteen Kopp were definitely good. John Miner's all too brief appearance on the stage was one of the best moments of the play. Miner looks like one of the Players' most promising finds in years and it is to be hoped that he will be seen in many character parts in the future.

The set for "Over 21" was one of the best this reviewer has seen either on the Warren Players' stage or in any commercial production. Mr. Acks and his assistants deserve much credit for their obvious expertise in this difficult phase of stage productions. For that matter, all of the mechanical and physical details of the enterprise were handled with professional skill. Lighting, costumes, and make-up showed the work of able hands.

It is to be regretted that this mechanical excellence was not matched by a corresponding degree of finish in the presentation of the play itself. All in all, aside from mechanical details, this production was about on a level with the average performance of any amateur group. But such average rating is considerably less than the Warren Players have been very justifiably given in the past. It may be that the play's managers ran into unusual problems which limited the time available for rehearsals. If this was the case, it is to be hoped that such handicaps will not appear in future productions and that there will be an early return to the usual high level.

An Axe to Grind

Dr. Jack Wolford, member of the Warren State Hospital staff and guest speaker at the October meeting of Warren Business and Professional Women's Club, told his audience that all public speakers have an axe to grind and that his special interest was a better understanding of and support for the Northwestern Pennsylvania Mental Hygiene Association, a program he termed of equal worth with the March of Dimes for infantile paralysis and the efforts directed toward cancer control. Recounting early crusades for better care of the mentally ill, he spoke at length of "A Mind That Found Itself", now in its 25th printing.

Answering the question of why well adjusted, apparently normal people should be interested in mental health, Dr. Wolford gave some startling statistics, including the figure that one of every 15 children born today is destined to spend some part of his life in a mental institution; also that many of those about us in everyday life are actually in need of some form of mental hygiene because of emotional or physical upsets. He defined mental health and pointed out how the subject can be better understood through education in the schools and at home, and how the present attitude toward psychiatry and mental illness may be dispelled. He recommended broader education along this line so that mental diseases may be properly diagnosed in their infancy; so that mental institutions may be recognized as community assets; so that a new attitude may be adopted toward the individual who is suffering some form of mental illness. In developing such a program, he recommended higher salaries for teachers and training for them in psychiatry and associated fields.

Reports and Plans For Future Occupy Members of Board

The October meeting of the Y. W. C. A. board of directors was in the form of a tray supper yesterday. Miss Blanche Francis was in charge of the reading of the minutes, correspondence and the treasurer's report. Other routine reports were those of the general secretary, the cafeteria and the residence.

The report of the membership committee revealed that to date 391 people has taken care of the membership renewals. The committee hopes to complete its job in the near future and women who have not yet renewed their memberships are again requested to do so promptly.

The education and recreation committee announced Monday, October 29, as the date for the first square world fellowship committee meets on Thursday of this week at 4:30 for the planning of the annual World Fellowship Week tea on Saturday, November 17.

Announcement was made that Miss Vera Woods of the national staff will visit Warren on October 29-31st. She will confer with board, committee and club members. It will be remembered that Miss Woods was here last year when Warren was hostess to the international conference of the six small-town Y. W. C. A.'s in this area.

A letter was read relative to the Pennsylvania welfare conference to be held in Warren on Friday, October 25, at the Y. W. C. A. Board members as well as any Y. W. C. A. member are invited to attend and participate in the opportunities afforded by such a conference. Those wishing to attend are asked to get in touch with Miss Mary Church at the local Y. W. C. A. office.

Angeline Scalise Becomes the Bride Of Robert Rankin

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scalise, 413 Taft Place, announce the marriage of their daughter, Angeline Mae, to Robert Vincent Rankin, son of Mrs. Walter Cotterman, of Franklin.

The marriage took place at the court house, Judge Allison D. Wade reading the service in his chambers at 9:30 a. m. October 10.

The bride was attired in a blue crepe dress, princess style, with black accessories and an orchid corsage. Miss Anna M. Scalise, cousin of the bride, wore black accessories and corsage of white pompons with a frock of rose color. Mrs. Scalise, mother of the bride, wore navy blue with pink roses and Mrs. Cotterman wore a pink rose corsage with a brown ensemble.

Theodore Kifer was best man for Mr. Rankin. A wedding dinner for the immediate families followed at the Scalise home, where a three-tiered cake centered the bride's table. A reception for friends and relatives followed in the afternoon.

For a short wedding trip to Buffalo, the bride chose a two piece gray suit and accessories of aqua. She will be home to friends at 705 Fourth avenue.

Mrs. Rankin is a graduate of Warren High School, Class of 1940, and Mr. Rankin attended Franklin High. Both are employed by Sylvania Electric Products, Inc.

Pre-nuptial parties for the bride were given by Mrs. Joseph Scalise, Mrs. Anthony Regina and Mrs. Jack Giddens.

Jamestown Writer Talks Before Club

The Association of College Women met last Friday evening, October 12, at the home of Mrs. Russell Elliott, 314 East street, and two new members were accepted: Louise H. Stewart and Jean Spencer.

After the business meeting, S. Miles Bouton, of the Jamestown Post-Journal, spoke to the group on the subject "Can the Germans Be Re-educated for Peace?"

He predicted that there would be no peace; that humanity hasn't advanced far enough to make the sacrifices necessary for peace. He described the different zones occupied by the Allies, and said that the Americans hold the least favorable ones. He said that although there had been some talk of reducing Germany to an agricultural country, for which it is well fitted, this could not happen because of power politics. "Our industrialists being too anxious to get Germany's trade as it was before the war," he declared that it is "necessary for us to build up a vast preparation program if we are to hold our own in the future."

Questions were willingly answered at the close of this interesting talk.

Refreshments were served by Mary Meaghan and her committee.

Without Pains Backache Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits the accumulation of acid waste in the blood, you may experience backache, rheumatism, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with a burning and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant to get your blood flowing freely. Doan's Pills are famous for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Behind the Lines

Major Hoople didn't fare too well over the week-end in his usgridiron prediction, but he was not per cent lower in last Saturday's prognostications than on Sunday, October 6. The fumbler Major hit only one on the d last week, naming Missouri 13-7 winner over Iowa State. t of the 25 guesses Major corty figured on 17 of them, but other eight were mostly far. The poorest of the predict- was Cornell's supposed 61-20 over Princeton. Rating second t to the Missouri-Iowa State diction, was the Warren one- one edge over Jamestown. The jor gave Warren 14 and Jamestown 13-7. Sheffield one touchdown over Corry, 21-12; mis- sed on Youngsville as he gave the Eagles a 7-6 victory over Ridgway. The Elkers whipped in a seven- pointer to upset things. All told- ed, Hoople has correctly predict- ed 39 out of 54 for an average per- centage of 72 per cent.

From "Frankly Speaking," a sports column conducted in the Jamestown Post-Journal by Sports Editor Frank Hyde: "It wouldn't surprise your correspondent to see high school officials of Warren and Jamestown agree to drop ath- letic relations between the two schools because of Saturday's 7-6 victory over the Red and Green. One injured bystander, smash- ed windows, two overturned cars in Warren, and hundreds of dol- lars in other damage attests to the all-time low in lousy sports- manship displayed by the hood- lum element of both cities. . . .

To officials of both schools we point out if you agree to drop ath- letic relations you will be per- fectly right. . . . To "Frankly Speaking": We thoroughly disagree that athletic relations between Warren and Jamestown High Schools should be dropped. For years and years, those two schools have been bitter rivals, and always, as was expect- ed, there was same damage caus- ed by pre-game student demon- strations. Take a look over your nation and determine the happen- ings in other towns when rivalry sparks the teams. Warren and Jamestown are not the only two schools on the map in which such occurrences are had.

It's just too bad if the school officials have to resort to deacid- ing the athletic relations of these two rivals. If they do, then some of our sports-minded townspeople should find some new leaders.

Sheffield High School boasts one of the longest consecutive strings of fine athletes. The 1945-6 cage season will find the Wolverine coach without an offspring of the Otto family for the first time since 1932. Ever since that year, there has been an Otto on Shef- feld's basketball five, and the Wolverines will miss the playing abilities of one of the boys. In 1932 until 1934, John, who now re- sides in Franklin and officiates some of the local grid and cage games, started the ball rolling for the Otto family. Mike took over in 1935 and continued until 1938. Along came Pete, who took the assignment until brother Nick, well-known in Warren for his star- ring a few years back, received the position. Matthew, who reigned from 1943 until 1945, was the last of the family. What other school can boast such a family re- cord?

As a military transport, the C-97 can carry 120 fully armed troops.

'Name' Players Continue Top Rank On Grid

By YIMMY JORDAN
Chicago, Oct. 17.—(P)—Young- er players may be getting ready to push the veterans off their po- sitions in the National Football League, but when the official sta- tistics come around, the names of the oldsters continue to top the list.

Only one rising satellite appear- ed with such veteran stars as Don Hutson, Sammy Baugh, Ken Strong and Ted Fritsch as in- dividual leaders in various depart- ments were officially listed today.

He was Steve Van Buren, sopho- more back for the Philadelphia Eagles. Van Buren, a native of Honduras and graduate of Low- ville State University, took over the individual ground-gaining lead- ership the past week as he rolled up 93 yards against Detroit to bring his total to 163 in two games, and an average of 12.5 yards per play in 13 attempts.

New York, Oct. 16.—(P)—It will take nothing less than perfection for Arnie Herber to maintain his present Nation- al football league passing pace against Pittsburgh next Sunday. The veteran New York Giants pitching ace has completed nine out of nine passes, four of them scoring plays, in league tilts against Pittsburgh and Boston.

But along with him was Hutson, leading both pass receivers and scorers. Baugh, leading the pass- ers, and strong, heading the place-kickers in the field goal de- partment.

Baugh completed 18 of 21 passes against Pittsburgh Sunday to bring his total to 32 in 53 at- tempts for an average of .604, total yardage of 361.

The Curious Clue

Chapter 38

"As a doctor I am certainly glad I had the opportunity of seeing this case of instantane- ous rigidity," Dr. Blair said a few minutes later as the party settled down comfortably in the bar, at the end of the patio. "I'll prob- ably never see another in my life- time."

"War usually brings out a few cases like this, doesn't it?" the General asked as he finished his highball and signalled the bar- tender for another.

Dr. Blair replied, "Instant rig- or mortis happens most frequently in battles but of course it can occur at any time or place."

The General nodded. "I looked up an old record today," he ob- served. "The thing interested me, too. There were 40 cases of in- stant rigor mortis reported on the field at Antietam. There will probably be more authenticated as a result of World War II."

GARDNER was sitting beside Suzy. Suddenly he turned and asked if she would object to a personal question. She shook her head, still more shaken by the events of the evening than she cared to show anyone.

"It's really quite a personal question," Gardner continued slowly. "Maybe I shouldn't ask it, but it will clear up a point in this case. When did you tell Mr. Peabody, Miss Van Tyne?"

Suzy's face flushed, she hesi- tated a moment, then said in a low voice, "Last night at dinner. I told him I was engaged to Seth."

"Was last night the first time he had seen your ring?"

"Yes," Suzy's embarrassment was visibly increasing. "I thought it would work out that way. As a result of your dis- closure, Delgado nearly killed Seth Peabody in the same furious rage in which he killed his wife. Your fiancé had a close shave, Miss Van Tyne."

"When a man starts killing, nothing stops him, except jail, and then you have to watch him or he may kill himself," Gardner said quietly. "Delgado hates you."

We killed in a moment of jealous rage because you had come on the scene and everything he had planned blew up in his face. But his arrest this evening undoubt- edly saved your life. Cobo just telephoned me that he found a loaded gun on Delgado.

"He told Cobo the thing that worried him most about his ar- rest tonight was that it had pre- vented him from killing Peabody. That gives you a rough idea what I mean."

Seth's hand shook a little as he put down his glass. "Suzy," he made a feeble attempt at a smile, "come with me, my dear, out on the beach where we'll forget crime and try and get back to a life we used to know— I mean ago. Sans crime, sans detec- tives, sans medical phenomenon, sans everything but just the two of us."

The men laughed as they stood up to give their farewells to Suzy and Seth. Everyone began their goodbyes. As he shook hands with Gardner, Seth said gaily, "It was my good luck that you were here, Gardner. Come to see us in New York and we'll try and make you forget the late unpleasant- ness." He looked around and saw that Suzy was walking slowly toward the patio with Wallis and the General. "I know," he con- tinued in a hurried undertone, "how right you are. The thing was damn close. You saved my life this evening. I'll never forget that. Later on I'll run down to the fire house and say good- byes to Cobo. He's a great little guy."

"You'll find him playing domi- noes with the fire chief. His game's been badly neglected this week. Best of luck and my con- gratulations. You're a lucky devil, Peabody! Happy landing to you both."

There was still moonlight on the sea and the beach when Suzy and Seth finally stood alone look- ing out over the silvered waters. Behind them palm trees inked black shadows on dazzy white sands. Suddenly Suzy felt Seth's arm drawing her close.

"I've been such a little fool," she said in a shaken voice; tears were close to the surface now. "I started out, just having fun. I didn't tell anyone I was engaged. It honestly didn't seem necessary. I was going home soon and except for Wallis I never expected to see any of these people again. Then you came. . . . "When you arrived at the ho- tel, Seth, I realized that Ramon was serious. He actually thought I was in love with him. I knew he had a frightful temper, and I didn't want to start anything with him I couldn't finish. I'd seen his explosions of rage and they terrified me. You can't trifle with a man like Ramon and I knew too late I was in trouble. So I kept putting off telling him."

"Did you think he had killed Dolores?"

"I was pretty sure he had killed her, but I didn't dare say anything. I tell you I was afraid of him and I think I have him in these last few days. You see Sat- urday night Dolores told me she was married to him. Poor little kid. He treated her terribly and a lot of it was my fault. I felt badly over my own thoughtless- ness when I knew the truth but by that time there was nothing I could do that just wouldn't have made more trouble for all of us."

"Is that why you bought that gun? Because you were afraid of Ramon—of what he might do—"

"Yes. And then I have him steal it, kill again, and try to fasten the crime on me! That was a terrible experience I shall never forget. But it's taught me one thing."

"That my flitting days are over! Seth, you are going to be married so fast when you get to New York it's going to make you—"

"The happiest man in Manhat- tan!" Both of his arms were around her and he held her as if he would never let her go. Time passed unheeded until both of them were aware that some one was singing the pirates' song, over in the patio. Softly Suzy began to sing the words as the orchestra played a faraway accompaniment.

"Take warning now by me, for I must die, for I must die. Take warning now by me, for I must die, for I must die. And shun bad company. Lest you come to hell with me, for I must die."

"Music Ramon planned for dancing," Suzy said in a quiet voice as the orchestra repeated the old refrain. "Tonight it's his own bitter epitaph."

gram under the management of Mrs. Mary Mohnkern was presen- ted, there was a good attendance which it is hoped will still be im- proved each Sunday, next Sunday will be promotion Sunday and Mrs. Allen will have charge of the pro- gram.

Which man are YOU...in 1955?

You and the man you work next to, are in about the same spot—today.

Tomorrow, your positions may be widely different.

In 10 years, one of you may be a decided success. The other—frankly—a failure.

No one wants to be a failure. Most failures hope for great success to come—even as you do now.

But failures, somehow, lack just a bit of the resolution, the self-discipline, that successes are apt to have.

Take War Bonds, for instance... Victory Bonds, now.

The way of success is to stick to your resolutions—to buy more and more Bonds, and keep them! Knowing they'll form a nest egg to help you feel secure... to give the confidence that contributes to success as you make your way through life!

More: Those Bonds can mean a home of your own. An education for your children. Your own business when the opportunity knocks!

And the extra money that holding them to maturity will mean: four dollars for every three you invest in "E" Bonds.

Those Bonds are your future

But the way of the failure is to forget those things. To sluff off on bond buying—to be tempted to cash unnecessarily the bonds he already holds...

Keep those Bonds! Buy more! And more! Think of your future—hang on to your bonds!

VICTORY BONDS...TO HAVE AND TO HOLD!

Takes Old Job After Release

Friends of Maurice E. Snelling will be glad to know that he received his discharge from the army Sept. 30 after serving three years and three months in the 8th Air Force.

As radioman operator with gunnery wings on a B-24 he was with the first big bomber crew to fly over occupied Europe, when the missions were long and hard and unescorted by fighter planes.

Credited with 122 points he was awarded the Air Medal, Good Conduct Medal, Distinguished Service Unit Citation, European-African-Middle East Service Medal with eleven bronze stars, earned for raids on Egypt-Libya, Air Offensive over Europe, Tunisia, Sicily, Naples-Foggia, Normandy, Northern France, Rhineland, Ardennes, Central Europe and Ploesti.

Stationed in Africa and England outside of London where dodging buzz bombs was just one of the things, but relieved by the fact that he was within visiting distance of relatives, where he was guest at Fountain Dale, where Sir Walter Scott wrote two of his novels and is the estate of an uncle of Miss Florence Kennett and P. R. Richardson, of Akeley and Warren.

He is returning to his old job with the Horton Eng. Co., whose main offices are located at Lamar, Missouri.

BROTHER OF LOCAL MAN IS LIBERATED

Word has been received here from J. R. C. Boyer, formerly of Jackson avenue, of the liberation from a Japanese prison camp of his brother, Cpl. Franklin Boyer, United States Marine

Men and Women In the Service

TAMBURINE BROTHERS
HONORABLY DISCHARGED
S/Sgt. Joseph J. Tamburine, U. S. Army Air Corps, is home after receiving his honorable discharge papers at Camp Atterbury, Ind. He served as a ball turret gunner on a Flying Fortress attached to the 101st Heavy Bombardment Group of the 8th Air Force, has 35 combat missions over Germany and France, and wears the Air Medal with five Oak Leaf Clusters; also the Good Conduct Medal, the ETO ribbon with four campaign stars.

His brother, Pfc. Angelo L. Tamburine, has been honorably discharged from service at Indian-town Gap. He was a National Guardsman and saw action with the 11th Infantry Anti-tank Company of the 28th Division. He wears four gold bars for overseas service, the Pre-World War ribbon, the Good Conduct Medal and the ETO ribbon with five battle stars.

CHARLES S. ROWLAND
HONORABLY DISCHARGED
S/Sgt. Charles S. Rowland, son of Mrs. Margaret Rowland, 515 Water street, arrived home October 8 after having been honorably discharged at Camp Stewart, Ga., on the 11th. S/Sgt. Rowland entered the service on August 29, 1942, and left the United States in March, 1944. He was squad leader in the 337th Infantry, 85th Custer Division, of the Fifth Army. He was awarded the Purple Heart, Bronze Star Medal with one Oak Leaf Cluster, the Good Conduct Medal, Combat Infantry Badge and the European theatre ribbon with three battle stars.

ROBERT FRANKLIN
HONORABLY DISCHARGED
M/Sgt. Robert Franklin was recently honorably discharged from service at Indian-town Gap after serving three years, six months and 18 days overseas. He was a member of the 100th Troop Carrier outfit which took part in all the battles where paratroopers were used. Bob has the Air Medal with one Oak Leaf Cluster, the Good Conduct Medal, Distinguished Unit badge, European-African-Middle Eastern campaign ribbon with one silver and two bronze stars denoting seven major engagements.

IS PROMOTED
Word has been received here that Harold R. Carlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Robert Carlson, Hinkle street, has been promoted to sergeant from technician fifth grade. He is a member of the 810th Tank Destroyer Battalion, Headquarters Company, stationed on the island of Peleliu in the Western Caroline Islands.

EXPECTED SOON
Pfc. William F. Rieder, USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Rieder, of Pleasant township, called his family Saturday afternoon from Oceanside, Calif., saying he had arrived back in the States aboard the aircraft carrier Attu. In service for three years, he has been overseas for two years, participating in the campaigns for Saipan, Tinian and Iwo Jima. He wears the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with three battle stars, also the Presidential Citation. He told his parents he expects to be honorably discharged and home soon.

NOW IN CHINA
Word has just been received by Mrs. John Carr, Youngsville, that her husband, who has been stationed in the Philippines with the 42nd Naval Construction Battalion, has been moved and now is located in Shanghai, China. He and his company were the first American troops to land there and received quite a welcome, he writes. His outfit is rebuilding air fields and docks along the harbor. He also writes that on the boat over, he happened to meet Kenneth Anderson, of Warren.

ROBERT ALLEN KIRBERGER
HONORABLY DISCHARGED
Robert Allen Kirberger, seaman first class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Kirberger, 10 Orr Place, arrived home October 9 after having been honorably discharged October 8 at Lido Beach, New York City. He served 40 months in the navy. He is spending a few weeks in Warren with his wife and family, after which he will return to Meadville to be employed by Talon, Inc.

DARRELL L. MILLER
HONORABLY DISCHARGED
S/Sgt. Darrell L. Miller, son of Mrs. Clarel Miller, 29 South South street, who arrived in the United States on September 27 after 38 months overseas was honorably discharged at Camp Chaffee Ark., on October 3. He saw service with the 15th Air Force engineering corps. He is now spending a few weeks in Oklahoma City with his wife and relatives after which he will return to Warren about November 1, and will be employed by the Bell Telephone Company.

AT SAN ANTONIO
San Antonio, Texas, AAF Personnel Distribution Command reports that 2nd Lt. Kenneth H. Betts, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Betts, 114 Fourth avenue, has arrived at that center for processing in preparation for a discharge or reassignment to duty in this country. Lt. Betts, who served 20 months in the European theatre as a navigator, wears the Air Medal and three Oak Leaf Clusters. He was among American fliers liberated from prisoner of war camps in Germany.

HAS PROMOTION
The promotion to corporal of Benjamin Clifton, 111 Prospect street, has been announced at Mason General Hospital, Brentwood, N. Y., where he was assigned in September, 1943, and works in the hydrotherapy department. Cpl. Clifton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Clifton. His brother, S/Sgt. Howard J. Clifton, is with the office of strategic forces, previously stationed in India and now in China.

ON USS TODD
A dispatch from aboard the USS Todd states that Donald R. Anderson, seaman first class, USNR, 8 Malvina street, witnessed the proceedings in Tokyo Bay on September 2 when that attack cargo transport lapped anchor to land part of the 11th Corps of the 8th Army. Before this the Todd was active in transport operations in the Pacific, moving troops and supplies to the forward areas.

SHIPPED OUT
From Treasure Island, Calif., naval embarkation depot, comes word that Henry Christensen, yeoman petty officer, has recently shipped out for duty in the Pacific with an advance base personnel administration unit, in a communications component. Yeoman Christensen is a former Pennsylvania Gas Company employee.

MARVIN LOPER IS
HONORABLY DISCHARGED
Cpl. Marvin F. Loper is home with his wife, Jean, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Loper, North Warren, after having been honorably discharged from the army at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. In the service for nearly four years, he served 19 months overseas in the European theatre.

WOUNDED IN SICILY
Kenneth F. Walker, chief boatswain, formerly of Warren, is spending a 15-day leave with his aunt, Mrs. James Jorgensen, in Brookston. Chief Walker was wounded in the Sicily invasion July 10, 1943, and is still in the U. S. Naval Hospital, Long Island, recovering from his wounds.

IS SERGEANT NOW
Mrs. Chester Bailey, 239 Pennsylvania avenue, west, has received word from her husband that he has been promoted to sergeant. He is with the 9th Air Force in Germany and expects to be honorably discharged soon.

S/Sgt. Robert W. Newman, gunner on a B-29 at Muroc, Calif., is home on a 45-day leave to visit his wife and son and other relatives.

Sgt. Clifford P. Baker, of Fort Benning, Ga., has been in town on leave, visiting his sister, Miss Dorothy Baker, manager of the local Personal Finance Company's office.

Tiny Can Can Dancers

Phoebe Jewell and Karlene Gibson. These charming young ladies, each 9 years old, are the talented daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Jewell, of 101 Main street, North Warren, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gibson, of 807 West Fourth avenue. They will be seen in a French can-can dance in the recital to be presented by the Williams School of Dancing on Thursday evening, November 1, at Beatty school.

ROBERT McDONALD HONORABLY DISCHARGED

M/Sgt. Robert M. McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McDonald, 11 Bradley street, has been honorably discharged from the Army Air Forces. A veteran of many months of active duty in the European theatre as a base technical inspector, Sgt. McDonald was released in accordance with the army point system. He wears nine battle stars on his ETO ribbon.

HAS PROMOTION

Mrs. R. G. Keller, Warren RD 3, has just received word from her husband, Robert G. Keller, that he has been promoted to machinist's mate third class. He is serving aboard a water purifying ship, the USS Pasig, in the Pacific.

IS EN ROUTE HOME

Mrs. A. F. Yerg has had word from her husband, Lt. Cmdr. Yerg, that he arrived in San Francisco last week, flying from Naha, and will be home on 19-day leave before reporting for a new assignment in Philadelphia. He has been serving in the Pacific area for the past 20 months.

Sgt. J. Leslie Babbitt has returned to this country from the European theatre of operations and is home on furlough. T/5 Herbert Fitzgerald, in Manila, writes to his wife, Edna, that he has received the good conduct medal, the Pacific theatre ribbon, with one bronze star and the Philippine liberation ribbon.

SUGAR GROVE
Troop 7 of Boy Scouts of Sugar Grove, of which T. Q. Stohberg is Scoutmaster, has been doing fine work in the past few months. Fifteen members of the group attended Camp Olmsted this summer and while there passed tests and received 35 merit badges, as well as other first and second class advancement tests. Guy Summerson was elected to the order of The Arrow and Malcolm Allen of this troop is also a member. These two boys and Leonard Briggs went on a wilderness hike and spent three days in the woods between Sheffield and Warren, carrying their equipment and food. Guy and Malcolm attended the Golden Arrow encampment on Lake Erie. The troop was collected about two tons of waste paper. Recently a board of review was held at the home of W. C. Barlow, at which there were three candidates for Life Scout and Leonard Briggs and Malcolm Allen for Star Scout. Donald Burch and Roland Carlson advanced to rank of Second Class Scouts, Sherman McClure to First Class Scout, and merit badges were awarded to Ronald Barrett, pathfinding and wood carving; Guy Summerson, wood carving, conservation, personal health, fireman's life, saving and athletics and safety; Malcolm Allen, wood carving, conservation, personal health,

A&P Observes 86th Birthday

Development of new consumer services and new products will dominate plans of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company as it enters its eighty-seventh year of pioneering in the field of food distribution.

This week's nationwide observance of the company's eighty-sixth birthday will honor George Huntington Hartford, who in 1859 opened the doors of his first red-fronted store in New York, thereby founding a system of mass distribution which today plays a vital part in the daily lives of millions of consumers, producers and farmers.

Announcing local celebration of the event, Mr. F. L. Lambert vice president in charge of this area, pointed out that the institution founded by Hartford has attained its leadership as much through inspired public service as in "selling food at the lowest margin of profit in the history of the retail grocery business."

At its inception, said Mr. Lambert, the first A & P store was guided by a policy of cutting operating costs and passing the savings on to the consumer. Tea, for example, was a luxury beyond the reach of the average family. Bypassing all needless in-between handlers and costs, young Hartford imported a cargo of tea directly from China and retailed it for a third of prevailing prices. Subsequently he applied the same principle of direct distribution to an expanding variety of foods, and public acceptance paved the way for America's first chain store system.

"Since that time the entire history of the company's development has been a record of finding new and better ways to feed America economically," he said "and all signs point to our eighty-seventh year as the most progressive in that direction."

Returning Service Men

are making thousands of Long Distance calls. Their calls, added to all other Long Distance calls, continue to keep our lines more crowded than ever before. So your help is still needed to help these calls get through. Please make only necessary Long Distance calls during the evening hours. Meanwhile, we're doing everything possible to ease the pressure on our lines and to give back to everyone the Bell System's true standards of service. We can tell you now, for example, that 2,100,000 miles of Long Distance circuits will be added to the Bell System next year. That's a lot of circuits... more, in fact, than Great Britain and France both had before the war.

Program Is Proposed to Save Forests of the United States

We have a lot of forest land in this country—630 million acres, one-third of the United States. But unfortunately all these acres are not producing timber and only a small percentage produce the volumes which they are capable of producing under reasonably intelligent forest management, says R. F. Hemingway, forest supervisor of Allegheny National Forest.

In 1909, the total stand of timber was estimated at 2,826 billion feet. In 1938, a survey of the nation's resources revealed that we then had approximately 1,764 billion feet, a reduction of 40 percent in thirty years.

During the war period 1941-45, our forests have been called upon to furnish more than one hundred billion feet of timber to supply our needs for war purposes.

On account of this drain on our forests for lumber and other forest products, our timbered areas have suffered a severe blow. This critical timber situation will become more acute as our forests are called upon to supply lumber and other wood products to meet the postwar demand, says Hemingway.

A program is needed, he says, which will:

1. Stop destructive cutting and forest depletion on mature stands.
2. Prohibit premature or wasteful cutting of young stands.
3. Provide for restocking of cutover and burned over areas.
4. Reserve from cutting a sufficient number of desirable trees to keep the land reasonably productive.
5. Prevent avoidable damage to trees which are left.
6. Prohibit clear cutting except where it is silviculturally desirable or where the land is to be put to some other suitable use.

These practices are being followed on all National Forests and on some lands in private ownership. However, on many millions of acres of privately owned land, little or no consideration is being given to cutting practices that will insure continued production of good timber.

The measures which will result in abundant and continuing supplies of timber will also help to conserve water supplies, regulate stream flow and reduce floods provide better hunting, fishing and other recreation and contribute to the scenic beauty of our country.

The turkey, a large domestic bird, is so-called because of a mistaken idea it came from Turkey. Actually it is an American bird and was not introduced into Europe before 1539.

To Wives and Parents of Engineers Due to Return Home From the Services

The home town has first claim on these men and we wish them their richly-deserved success. But to those engineers who for any reason will seek employment elsewhere, we make a special appeal. The Austin Company needs young, ambitious engineers in all its offices from Coast to Coast—men who are interested in the long-term opportunities offered by a strong, nation-wide organization.

Openings exist in Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, the East Coast, Gulf Coast and West Coast. These positions are in long-established engineering departments on the design and preparation of working drawings for the construction of industrial plants and their facilities. Men are needed with full or partial education or experience in mechanical, electrical, structural and architectural design.

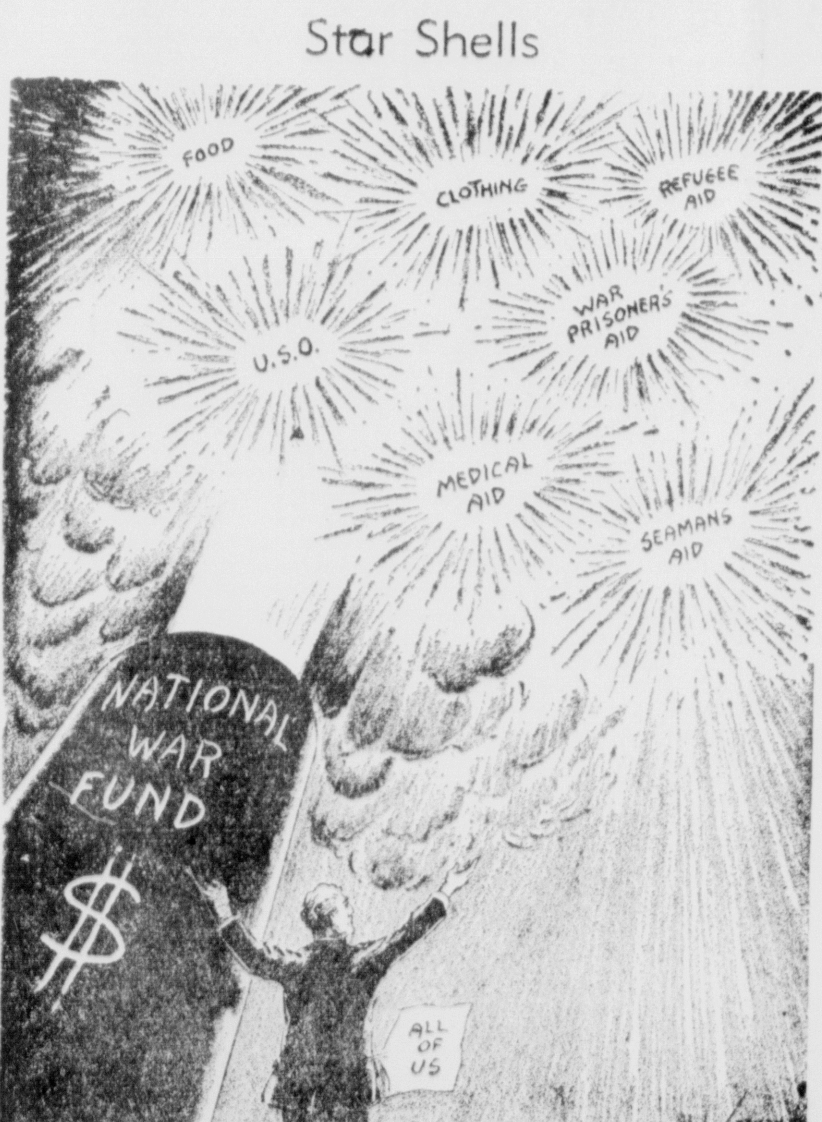

Wives and Parents: Do not write us but please send this to your service man. Ask him to write immediately to Mr. W. G. Paton, Vice President. The letter should give education and experience, preferred location and approximate month of release.
